

Photographs of the Flewharty-Powell Annex

Looking west in the living room. The couches and chairs make a cozy meeting space for smaller groups. For larger groups, dining room chairs and folding chairs may be set up.

Looking east in the living room.

Looking from the living room into the dining room. At least 3 folding tables such as these may be set up in the living/dining room area, each holding 6 people.

Looking south in the dining room, towards the living room. While you can't see all the living room from the far end of the dining room, the open arrangement makes it possible to accommodate larger groups by using both rooms.

The kitchen has a stove and refrigerator which may be used.

Another view of the kitchen. All the pans, utensils, etc. may be used. A small coffee pot and microwave oven are also available.
